

Claire Bloor BSc (Hons) RVN, PGCE, Cert VN (Dent), MBVNA, MifL

I qualified as a Veterinary Nurse in 2003, when I also graduated with a First Class Honours Degree in Veterinary Nursing from Myerscough College, and The University of Central Lancashire.

I worked at Hillcrest Animal Hospital in Chorley, where I had completed my training, until the end of 2005 and I completed the BVNA Veterinary Nurse Certificate in Dentistry. I then began part-time work at Petmedics Veterinary Surgeons in Manchester and part-time Veterinary Nursing and Animal Care teaching at Myerscough College.

In 2006 I accepted the full-time post of Veterinary Nursing Lecturer at Myerscough College and completed my PCGE in 2007. I teach to all levels of student VN now from the Further Education Level 3 Diploma, to the BSc (Hons) and FdSc, and also the HE Diploma in Clinical Veterinary Nursing/RCVS Diploma in Advanced Veterinary Nursing course students. My main teaching however is now focused on the Higher Education Veterinary Nursing courses and I am Course Tutor for the Diploma Higher Education Clinical Veterinary Nursing. I am due to complete my Masters in Education (Research) in May 2011.
