

Sally Bowden BSc(Hons) CertEd RVN MBVNA

Sally worked in practice for ten years before becoming a lecturer. She has worked for a number of colleges in the UK and in New Zealand, where she lived for 4 years. She continues to be involved with veterinary nursing education, combining this with work in practice, where she has a special interest in client care.

Sally has also been a member of the RCVS VN Council, a RCVS senior examiner and was made an honorary member of BVNA in 2005. She is the author of an anatomy and physiology textbook for students.
