

Sarah Dalton

In 2002 I gained my BSc(Hons) in Physiotherapy (human) at Kings College, London then in 2005 I started studying the Masters/Diploma course in Veterinary Physiotherapy at the RVC, which I gained in 2007. This internationally recognised course provides new career opportunities for human physiotherapists seeking to apply their professional knowledge, experience and practical therapy skills to the treatment of animal patients. I currently work for Physio Vision and hold physiotherapy clinics at various practices in Essex.
